REPUBLICANS ASSEMBLE FOR STATE MEETING

CONVENTION TO OPEN FRIDAY MORNING AT INDIAN-APOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—(UP)—All roads led to the Indiana capital today as official delegates and party leaders arrived for the opening activity of the biennial Republican state nominating convention.

Official meetings started with a noon luncheon for county and district chairmen and vice-chairmen, a few hours after nearly 25 candidates for 15 state ticket nominations opened headquarters in the Claypool hotel.

Indiana last of the Midwest states to name its Republican national convention delegation, will begin choosing twenty-nine delegates tonight with Governor Thomas E. Dewey given a chance to pick up additional farm belt support.

For the first time in several years the Republican nomination for Governor will go by default. Ralph F. Gates, Columbia City lawyer and recently resigned state chairman, is unopposed and is extremely unlikely to find any last-minute challenger.

The nomination for senator thus was the most important contest of the convention, and spokesmen for both Capehart and Tucker claimed more than the 872 delegate votes necessary for nomination. Carl H. Mote of Indianapolis, also an announced candidate for the Senate nomination, said he was "making no claims" but that he "definitely would have his name placed before the convention."

Both Capehart and Tucker have paid the $1,200 assessments required of United States Senate candidates and Mote said he was ready to post his check.

For several weeks managers for Capehart and Tucker have been claiming the advantage in almost all of the state's eleven congressional districts.

One of the most controversial is the First (Lake County) and leaders on both sides of the hotly contested Senate race have claimed the edge there, indicating a possible turbulent caucus tomorrow night.

The race for the nomination for state superintendent of public instruction, primarily between Malan and Miss Kinnaird, was complicated by reports that one or perhaps two more candidates would make belated announcements.

Both Malan and Miss Kinnaird have "two political strikes on them." Miss Kinnaird, with strong backing from the state's teachers, is from the Fourth District, which already has a United States senator, the unopposed candidate for Governor and an appellate judge. Malan is seeking his third term.

On the score of whether any of the eleven district caucuses tomorrow night would instruct for a presidential possibility there was sharply divided opinion.

Most politicians believe that Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York has strong support in Indiana but Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, won in contrast to Dewey is a declared candidate, also has strength.

Several of the district may instruct their delegates, but most political observers doubted if the state convention Friday would vote instructions for the entire twenty-nine delegates.

Subject to change at any time before the roll call starts, here's the way the lineup for the major nominations stands tonight:

For Governor—Gates, unopposed.

For United States Senator—Mote, Tucker and Capehart.

For Lieutenant Governor—State Auditor Richard T. James, Portland, and Mayor John Hampton, Muncie.

For Auditor—A. V. Burch, Evansville, unopposed.

For Secretary of State—Rue J. Alexander, Pine Village, (incumbent) unopposed.

For Attorney General—James A. Emmert, Shelbyville, (incumbent) unopposed.

U. S. FORCES ARE WITHIN SIGHT OF ROME

ARMORED YANK SPEARHEAD
ONLY 13 MILES FROM
ITALIAN CAPITAL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, June 1.—(UP)—The Fifth Army has driven two miles into the fortified Alban hills to within sight of Rome, outflanking the "strongholds of Velitri and Lauvio, and to the west has pushed an armored spearhead to within 13 miles of the capital, front reports said today.

(The Rome correspondent of the Spanish EFE agency said the battle had reached the "Roman" castles" area with the thunder of heavy gunfire audible in the Italian capital itself. The gunfire at times appeared to come from two directions, the correspondent said, indicating that allied armies were closing in from two directions.)

British troops of the Eighth Army seized Frosinone, capital of the province of the same name and junction of the Via Cassilina and an enemy escape highway branching off to the north and west.

German forces still holding out along the Via Cassilina and in the mountains to the south faced encirclement as the British surged on toward Valmontone, 24 miles to the northwest and already under attack by an American column from the south.

Supported by the greatest aerial umbrella of the three-week-old Italian offensive, American units of the Fifth Army breached the Velitri-Valmontone sector of the last enemy defense line below Rome in a surprise attack against surprisingly light resistance yesterday, James E. Roper, United Press war correspondent, reported from the front.

The Americans stabbed north into the heart of the Alban hills, then swung west to capture 3,100-foot Mt. Peshio, one of the loftiest peaks in the important Colle Laziali hill mass, in an over-all advance of two miles. Glistening white on the horizon was Rome, 15 miles away.

Leroy Garrett Of Fillmore Loses Horse

Leroy Garrett, living north of Fillmore lost a horse and was slightly shocked late Wednesday when lightning hit the barn to which he had gone from the field when the storm came up about five o'clock.

The young man had driven the team under the barn and had tied them before unharnessing them. He was sitting on some steps about ten feet away when the bolt hit the barn. Only one of the horses was killed, and the other was not injured. Garrett suffered a slight bruise or burn on one wrist.

The young man had acquired the team last Friday, paying more than $200 for them. The lost horse was not insured.

Ralph W. Gwinn Is Nominated

Greencastle friends of Ralph W. Gwinn of New York, will be pleased to learn that he is to become a member of the United States congress in the coming election, as he has been designated by his party as the nominee in the 27th New York Representative District, and the nomination is equal to election in November. Mr. Gwinn has been a candidate twice in the past, but because of the peculiar setup in the old district, he was defeated. However, the state has been restricted and the 27th district is now solidly Republican.

A press dispatch from White Plains, N. Y. says in part about the part in Gwinn's playing in New York State politics:

The Westchester County Republican Committee formally designated Ralph W. Gwinn, of Bronxville, for the party nomination for Congress in the new 27th District at a meeting tonight in the Eastview Junior High School.

Assemblywoman Jane H. Todd, of Tarrytown, bowed to the decision of Livingston Platt, the county leader, and members of the executive committee in favoring Mr. Gwinn for the 27th District. Her name was not presented to the county committee. The new district is now unrepresented, and the Republican nomination is regarded as equivalent to election. It embraces the western part of Westchester County and Putnam County. William H. Moran, of Tuckahoe, a Westchester Supervisor, nominated Mr. Gwinn tonight.

Mr. Moran told of the activities of Mr. Gwinn as a lawyer, farmer and educator in his thirty-two years' residence in Westchester County. The designee is a member of the law firm of Gwinn & Fell, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York. He is president of the National Republican Club of New York, vice-president of the International Council of Religious Education, president of the International Daily Vacation Bible Schools and a former member of the Bronxville Board of Education. He is sixty years old. He has a farm at Pawling, N. Y.

Miss Todd sat on the platform at tonight's meeting close by Mr. Platt, who presided. The county chairman in announcing previously for Mr. Gwinn recalled that he had carried the Republican banner in this district in 1942 and 1940, when it was a part of the heavily Democratic Bronx County. The designation for Mr. Gwinn was unanimous. The Putnam County Congressional Committee added its endorsement.

YANKS HELP CHINESE

CHUNGKING, June 1 (UP)—American planes entered the battle of Tung Ting Lake today as Chinese ground forces fell back slowly along a 60-mile front and prepared for a desperate stand on the approaches to Changsha.

A communique reported that U. S. 14th Air Force planes were moved in to aid the hard-pressed Chinese troops yesterday, bombing and strafing Japanese infantry columns and smashing at their supply lines.

NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(UP)—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today that 3,657,000 U. S. army soldiers are now deployed in theaters of operations overseas and that the "period of decisive action is now at hand."

Stimson said that by the end of the year, more than 5,000,000 American soldiers will be in battle theaters on every continent.

He told a news conference that the deployment of air forces and service forces overseas is practically complete and that battle-ready ground forces are now moving abroad in conformity with the overall strategic plan to beat the enemy.

The total of men overseas is 1,571,000 greater than the entire overseas strength of the U. S. army in the first World War, Stimson said.

Bill Ash was also formerly connected with the Dobbs Tire and Battery Service for ten years and is well known in the community. Both men are experienced in the servicing of tires and batteries and in the general servicing of automobiles.

The new concern will handle the complete line of U. S. Tires, batteries, auto accessories, gasoline and oils and will maintain an auto lubrication, washing and road service, Marathon gasoline and Pennzoil products will be handled.

Floyd Hemmer introduced Rev. Ellison "King" Cole, Episcopal rector of Bloomington, who is widely known as a speaker. He is a past district governor of Rotary and was mentioned prominently for International President at the recent convention in Chicago. Rev. Cole spoke on the food objects of Rotary, namely, vocational service, community service club service and international service. His address was timely, well expressed and enthusiastically received by his audience.

JAPS PUT UP RESISTANCE ON BIAK ISLAND

YANKS REPULSE TWO ENEMY COUNTER-ATTACKS NEAR
MOKMER AIRDROME

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, June 1.—(UP)—American forces have repulsed two more strong enemy counter-attacks on Biak Island it was announced today as the U. S. drive toward Mokmer airdrome was halted until the Japanese are cleared from the flanking positions.

The invasion troops, who had driven to within two miles of the airdrome with tanks and heavy artillery, turned back the new Japanese assaults on the coastal plain leading to the airdrome, lying less than 900 miles southeast of the Philippines.

The action apparently was a continuation of the tank battle which began at dawn Monday. Eight enemy tanks were destroyed and three damaged in that engagement, but there was no disclosure of Japanese losses in the futile counter-attacks.

Although a spokesman said the American advance had been halted until the Japanese are cleared from the hills on the inland flanks, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique reported that U. S. infantrymen had penetrated into the high lands overlooking Biak Island coast in search of enemy snipers and artillery spotters.

The enemy positions along the coast were bombarded Monday by American artillery and allied warships in direct support of the ground forces which the communique said have killed 679 Japanese since the invasion last Saturday morning.

MacArthur's communique said enemy opposition had collapsed east of the beachhead at Bosnek Village, while to the north patrols were clearing out small Japanese parties scattered throughout the hills.

Adverse weather in the battle zones prevented allied planes from aiding in the campaign, aimed at capture of Mokmer airdrome and two other airfields, Borekoe and Sorido, farther west.

SOLDIERS' BALLOTS READY SECOND WEEK IN AUGUST

Absent voters ballots for men and women serving in the nation's armed forces will be ready for them during the second week in August.

To vote in the November election, any soldier who so desires, may make application for a ballot through the office of the Secretary of State. He in turn will send these applications to the clerks of the various circuit courts of Indiana.

The official war ballots will be printed the first week in August and will be mailed out by the clerks during the second week of the month. The ballots will then be sent back by the soldiers and held by the election commissioners until the votes are tabulated election night.

RAINS ARE SPOTTY OVER PUTNAM COUNTY

The rains of the past several days have been spotty throughout Putnam county and as a result, some farmers have kept busy while others have been forced to lay-off corn planting because of the wet ground.

It seems that in many sections the rain has fallen in certain fields and across a fence or road, there was none, so the fortunate farmers who were missed have been able to continue their work and it is believed a majority of them have a large percentage of their corn in the ground, but only a small per cent has been worked over, and much of it is needing working, they report.

However, many of them are still working fifteen hours or more per day and with the early maturing seed corn they are using, they expect to have a crop yet this year, even though it is not planted until the middle of June.

$1,153.80 CHECK SENT TO STATE CONSERVATION DEPT.

Omer C. Akers, Putnam county clerk, announced Thursday morning that he had sent a check for $1,153.80 to the Indiana state conservation department. This represents the proceeds from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses in the county for the first five months of 1944.

A check of the records revealed that this amount was $43 more than the check sent to the state department for the same period last year.

NAZI SUB TAKES TWO YANKS FROM REFUGEE VESSEL

PORTUGUESE SHIP WAS STOPPED BY GUNFIRE; SAVED BY BERLIN ORDERS

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—(UP)—A German submarine stopped the Portuguese refugee ship Serpa Pinto by gunfire in midocean early last Friday, forced the passengers and crew to abandon ship and then after receiving wireless orders from Berlin not to sink the vessel, took two Americans as prisoners, the ship's officers and passengers said today.

While the young, bearded, English-speaking U-boat commander leisurely awaited word from his superiors 3,500 miles away, the 385 passengers and crewmen drifted aimlessly in horror for nine hours. Three of them, including the 16-months-old daughter of Polish refugees, lost their lives during the transfer from vessel to lifeboats.

When the order came to spare the Serpa Pinto, the German skipper permitted the passengers and crew to return to the vessel which then continued to Philadelphia where the 4th Naval District announced she docked Tuesday night.

The refugee ship, fully lighted and sailing under a safe conduct guarantee from the belligerent powers, was steaming smoothly on her course about 600 miles east and slightly north of Bermuda Friday when at 12:05 a. m. the U-boat rose. Warning shells zipped across the bow of the vessel and Americo Dos Santos, her captain, was summoned to the bridge. Blinker lights signaled:

"Stop. Send a boat." Dos Santos dispatched Chief Officer Manuel Valentim Pinho and the ship's second officer with the vessel's papers, list of crew and passengers and cargo manifests. Pinho was held as hostage, and the second officer returned in company with a submarine officer and a sailor, who waved a machine gun recklessly.

The officer, speaking flawless English, said that unless Camilo Grande Perez, 24, a native of Canada and a British subject, was surrendered inside of five minutes, the Serpa Pinto would be sunk. Perez disappeared to his cabin, but later was found and was taken to the submarine. Dos Santos said the Germans did not explain why they wanted Perez, who later was released—also without explanation.

The two Americans, Virgilio Magina, 22, of Bedford, Mass., and Manuel Pinto of Waterbury, Conn., returning to the United States to register for selective service, then were taken aboard the U-boat.

Pinho then returned to the vessel to relay the report that the Serpa Pinto was to be torpedoed within 20 minutes and the captain gave the order to abandon ship.

In the unloading of the passengers and crew and hoisting them back aboard later, the ship's doctor and a cook were killed. The third casualty was Beatrice Trapinski, baby of Polish refugees.

The screams of the baby's mother broke the quiet as the tiny boats drifted about on the calm sea.

It wasn't until 8 a. m., the navy said, that the submarine commander, described by Capt. Dos Santos as "about 28 and bearded," reported he had received a wireless from Berlin ordering him to spare the Serpa Pinto. The U-boat continued to maneuver during the hour-long task of reboarding the refugee ship.

URGES PARTISANS TO STRIKE

LONDON, June 1.—(UP)—Marshal Tito, in a special order of the day on what he called the eve of Allied offensives from the west and east, urged his Partisan armies today to strike "immediately with all their might" at German garrisons and military strongholds in Yugoslavia.

ALLIED PLANES CONTINUE AIR BLOWS ON AXIS

BRITISH AND U. S. BOMBERS FOUND NAZI TARGETS
DAY AND NIGHT

LONDON, June 1.—(UP)—British four-engine bombers, perhaps 750 strong, shattered three major French railway centers and subjected the invasion coast to its most concentrated bombardment of the war last night.

Eight planes were lost in the night's operations, which included mine-laying in enemy waters.

In their heaviest raid in at least four nights, the RAF's heavyweights rained block busters and fire bombs on Trappes, 16 miles southwest of Paris; Saumur, between Nantes and Tours on the Loire river and Tergnier, 13 miles south of St. Quentin on the main line between Cologne and the French invasion coast.

The air ministry described the raids as part of a "systematic offensive against the railways of northwest Europe"—an offensive that is expected to continue right up until the zero hour for invasion in an attempt to disorganize German defense preparations.

"Many other objectives" in occupied territory also were hit, the air ministry said.

The bombers flew through thunderstorms and severe icing conditions to reach Trappes, but the weather cleared over the target area and the first bombs exploded squarely on the target indicators.

Demolition bombs rained down on the invasion coast during one five-minute period at the rate of more than one per second and blasts of hot air could be felt on the English side of the channel, 20 or more miles away.

The concussion from exploding block busters across the channel also knocked plaster from ceilings, rattled crockery, jingled ornaments and opened doors in houses on the English southeast coast.

A 30-mile stretch of the English coast, from Dungeness to Deal, was illuminated by bomb flashes during the 15-minute attack around midnight. German anti-aircraft guns put up a strong barrage when the first raiders appeared, but their fire diminished as the attack was intensified.

Though the British announced only that the RAF was over occupied territory "in strength" last night, a Paris broadcast said the southwestern outskirts of the French capital and a locality in the Seine-El-Oise department also were bombed. "Extensive damage" resulted, the broadcast said.

The attacks on France coincided with an air ministry announcement that allied medium and fighter-bombers and fighters alone last month had destroyed many important highway and rail bridges over the Meuse river, the Scheldt canal system and the river Seine, damaged scores of others, and severed the most important transport links between northern and southwestern France.

"Military movements which involve crossings of the Seine within 100 miles of the coast are now severely restricted because the remaining bridge facilities are inadequate," the air ministry said.

The planes attached to the allied expeditionary air force—which does not include either American or British heavy bombers—flew 65,000 sorties in May more than double the previous month's record of 30,000. On at least 10 occasions, more than 3,000 flights were made over enemy-occupied territory during a 24-hour period.

ALWAYS IN MESH

Why is a bank that is free from government domination and control best for you? Because it is more responsive to your needs, more efficient, more progressive. Some reformers haven't yet learned that free enterprise is the greatest of all spurs to service and accomplishment. A free, independent bank is always in mesh with its community. A government-dominated bank is responsive only to the source of domination. For the sake of our country's future let's preserve the American Way of banking.

ASSISTANCE COSTLY

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—(UP)—The Indiana taxpayers' association reported today that old age assistance and grants to dependent children cost $25,598,637 in the state last year, including administration expenses exclusive of state administration.

The association said that 60,000 Hoosier now were receiving such aid and that the $40 minimum monthly payment authorized by the general assembly accounted for a boost in cost despite a decrease of approximately 1,000 beneficiaries since the peak was reached.

REDS JOIT GERMAN

MOSCOW, June 1.—(UP)—Red Army forces knocked out 122 German tanks, shot down 184 planes and killed "thousands" of enemy troops in repulsing a series of strong German tank and infantry attacks Tuesday and Wednesday north of the Rumanian city of Iasi, a communique said today.

In an attempt to expand a slight wedge into the Soviet lines above half-encircled Iasi, the Germans threw large armored forces into the action yesterday, the communique said, but "suffered enormous losses" without gaining a step.

For Treasurer—Frank T. Mills, Campbellsburg, unopposed.
For the Supreme and Appellate Court and Reporter of the Courts—Several declared and several potential nominees, including several incumbents.

The picture here was complicated by two factors. One, that either Sperrwood Blue, Marion County prosecutor, and Appellate Judge Wilbur Royce, also of Indianapolis, might seek one of the Supreme Court nominations. Second, that Mrs. Marjorie Gunderson, present reporter of the courts, might be opposed by another woman candidate.

PROPOSAL CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(UP)—A proposal for creation of a "court of inquiry" to bring out the full story of Pearl Harbor as a preliminary to courts martial for Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, is under congressional consideration today.

The court of inquiry approach, it was learned, has been suggested informally to certain congressmen as an alternative to immediate court martial proceedings which both the War and Navy Department resist. The service departments explain that the officers whose testimony would be essential to court martial proceedings are even more essentially employed now in the war effort.

The "court of inquiry" under the new suggestion would be a special group established either by Congress or by the President, with authority to visit any part of the world to take the testimony of these officers.

Bricker Resumes Campaign Efforts

HERSHEY, Pa., June 1 (UP)—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, Candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, resumed active campaigning today after spending four "non-political" days in conference with 35 other governors, including his possible chief opponent, Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Even before the official end of the 36th annual Governor's conference Bricker went to Lancaster, Pa., where he told local members of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association that "re-establishment of free enterprise" was one of the foremost issues of the 1944 campaign. Enroute to Lancaster he briefly at Brickerville, a community of 223 persons settled in 1739 by one of his Dutch ancestors, Bricker.

Dewey stayed to the end of the conference spent too much time on problems common to all states, but closing it with a statement when he acted as mediator in a dispute over a remanding better cooperation between the federal government and the states.

A NEW SUGAR
BERKELEY, Calif., June 1.—(UP)—Production of synthetic sugar for the first time in the laboratory, although in experimental quantities only, was announced today by three University of California scientists.

Lentiny experimentation on the chemical steps in the formation of sucrose by plants—a problem which has been puzzling scientists for decades—yielded two grams of commercial sugar, produced from fruit sugar and glucose phosphate.

SOLDIERS ESCAPE
CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind., June 1.—(UP)—Army authorities here said today they had asked southern Indiana civil officers to be on the lookout for six American soldiers who escaped from the Camp Atterbury jail. The six were held in the guardhouse for minor offenses, they said.

PRISONERS CAPTURED
INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—(UP)—Three German prisoners of war who escaped from Camp Breckenridge, Ky., early yesterday were back in the prison compound today after being apprehended last night.

Percy Wyly, agent in charge of the Indianapolis Federal Bureau of Investigation office, announced the recapture of the men but divulged no details.

LIE DETECTOR FAILS
FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 1 (UP)—A lie detector test failed to shake the story of Junior Leroy Wrege, 21, of Saginaw, Mich., who underwent the examination at Indianapolis yesterday in connection with the investigation of the Kuzeff murder, police reported today.

However, officers said the magazine salesman will be held on a loitering charge until he has cleared himself of any possible connection with the slaying of Anna Kuzeff, a 19-year-old defense plant worker who was strangled and raped on May 22. The police said Tuesday Wrege was unable to give them a clear account of his whereabouts on the night of the murder.

HEIFER BRINGS $500
Emery W. Creekbaun, of New Ross, recently sold his cow "Pretty Twinkle" to Roy McKee for $500, one of the highest prices ever paid in Montgomery county for a registered Guernsey heifer.

The heifer was a two year old, fresh 40 to 50 days, and milking at the rate of 1200 pounds of milk every 30 days. She had not yet been tested for butterfat. The new owner plans to put her on official test with three times a day milking.

Mr. Creekbaun still owns the mother of "Pretty Twinkle" and also several sisters. They are all being retained in his herd, at Locust Grove Guernsey farm near New Ross.

MANY APPLICATIONS
In spite of an increase quota in the Indiana CPA district for Grade I passenger tires, there will be applications in June for twice as many tires as the quota figure, it is said by Stephen A. Conn, District mileage rationing officer. The quota on Grade I's in June will be 33,854 as against 26,204 for May, an increase of 28 per cent. But most of the war price and ration boards will carry over from past months enough applications to consume at least one-half the June quota. For the last two months, Mr. Conn said, applications for all kinds of tires on which there are quotas have exceeded the quotas.

The quota of small truck tires for the Indiana district for June is 7,100 as compared with 6,650 for May. The quota of large truck tires for June is 3,014 as compared with 3,045 for May.

"But June applications," said Mr. Conn, "will go far ahead of all these quotas. And it is up to every car owner to take the best possible care of his tires. I see no prospect that the situation will get any better soon."

Reviews and Previews AT LOCAL THEATRES

Actor Donald Meek announced recently that he is considering going into the laundry business—the Chinese laundry business, if you please.

In order to play the role of an instructor of languages who teaches Chinese to six-year-old Margaret O'Brien in M-G-M's "Lost Angel," which opens Sunday at the Von-castle Theatre, Meek had to take some instructions in Chinese himself. He took several lessons from Wei F. Hsueh, Chinese actor and scholar, who was sent to the United States by his government on an exchange scholarship. He was graduated from Ohio State University and Penn State University.

Meek can now write with a brush and also say a few words of Chinese with a slight Irish accent. He feels that his next move might as well be to the laundry business.

Marsha Hunt and James Craig play the romantic leads in the tale of a child prodigy who learns how to become a regular kid the hard way.

Mines Returned To Private Ownership

WASHINGTON, June 1 (UP)—A majority of the nation's bituminous coal miners resumed operation under private management today with management and labor charged with the responsibility of meeting record production goals.

Coal administrator Harold L. Ickes released the mines after a seven-month period of government control while a final settlement was being negotiated to end a prolonged dispute between owners and the United Mine Workers.

The return of Anthracite and the remaining soft coal mines was expected to follow soon.

Those already released included most of the Bituminous mines covered by the wage contract recently approved by the war labor board. Control was retained over a few of the mines covered by that agreement, written for northern and western coal fields which produced 73 per cent of the nation's production last year.

Southern Appalachian operators who had rejected the contract have indicated willingness to meet the wage provisions but have asked safeguards to prevent dismissal of pending litigation over whether underground travel time is work time under the wage-hour law.

A UMW spokesman expressed confidence that at least 90 per cent of the southern operators would be ready next Monday to sign contracts containing a minor revision proposed by the Union to protect the lawsuit.

Anthracite mines will be released when the Anthracite wage contract is ratified by a special convention to be called by the UMW.

The government first seized the mines after a nationwide strike May 1, 1943 and released most of them during the summer. They were seized again last Nov. 1 after another shutdown.

Ickes said in a statement that he almost finished a "thankless job" which he had not solicited and did not want to repeat. With the government in control of the mines most of last year, he said, they produced a record output of 589,000,000 tons despite manpower and machinery problems.

TURN TO A&P FOR FOOD VALUE!

... and it pays to turn to A&P... if getting big value for your food dollars is important to you...

Of every dollar you spend for food, part goes for the cost of bringing it to you. Obviously, if that handling cost is low, you actually get more food for your dollar. A&P's cost of bringing foods from source to your market basket is far below average. This means you get more food for your money when you buy at an A&P Super Market.

Visit your A&P Super Market today! Learn why women everywhere agree "It's time to turn to A&P!"
